Bear Is Killed After Invading Stroudsburg

By James Shafer

THE Stroudsburg Bear Hunt came to an end yesterday at 5:30 p.m. when Patrolman Loren Dotey, Stroudsburg police department, shot and killed the 150 pound black bear that Stroudsburg police and Monroe County Game Protector John Doebling had been hunting throughout the day.

The bear was killed about 100 yards south of the weighing scales of the Stroudsburg Septic Tank Co., N. First St., Stroudsburg.

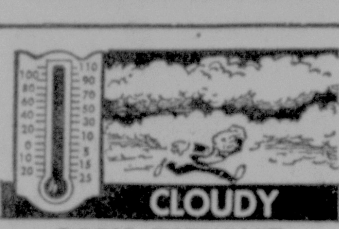

Doebling told police they should shoot to kill the bear when they found it. He said he was afraid that perhaps one of the children "hunting" the bear would be injured seriously or even one of the adults might be hurt.

The only casualty was Doebling himself. He was bitten in the left leg, on his shin, by a dog tied to its coop. Doebling said, "I don't blame the dog, he was only doing his duty of guarding the back yard of his master."

Reported To Police

Police were first informed of the bear's presence when they received several calls from residents of the Fifth St. area, near Fulmer Ave. The people expressed surprise and concern.

Castro Poses Threat To U.S. Base

'Debate' Leaves Positions Unchanged

Nixon, Kennedy Clash

CHICAGO (AP) — The rival presidential candidates clashed Monday night in unprecedented debate that left issues and positions unchanged, the goals for America in broad agreement, the methods of reaching them in dispute.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic standard bearer, quarreled in public, before millions of television viewers, over such things as the farm problem and pay for teachers.

At no time in the hour-long program did the issue of Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion enter into the discussions.

Differs On Progress

Kennedy said he definitely isn't satisfied with the way things are going in America and it must get on the move once more. Nixon challenged that. He said the country is on the move, and that it raked up more progress in numerous fields in the Eisenhower administration than in the Truman regime.

Under the ground rules, the debate was restricted almost completely to domestic affairs. It ranged over such subjects as minimum wage, school construction, cost of government, federal debt reduction, medical care for the aged, the economic race with Russia, Communist subversion in the United States, and the relative experience of the two men.

And when it was all over, two rather tense men relaxed a bit and agreed that this "great debate" was good for the country and perhaps themselves.

"Very sharp exchanges," Nixon commented.

Kennedy nodded assent, and added:

"Very useful."

Right at the start, Kennedy declared:

"I should make it very clear that I do not think we are doing enough; that I am not satisfied as an American with the progress we are making."

He said, too, that he knows "there are those who say that we want to turn everything over to the government. I don't at all."

Farm Policy

Kennedy said the administration's farm policy has failed, and Nixon's farm proposals are not "very much different from Mr. Benson's." The reduction of support prices has not worked, he said.

Responding, Nixon said Kennedy's program to improve farm income would lead to more government control. His own farm plan, Nixon added, would rescue farmers from problem of surpluses overhanging the market and depressing prices.

Aid to Education

Both candidates favored federal aid to school construction. Kennedy also called for federal subsidies to increase teachers' pay. Nixon rejected this on grounds it would lead to federal control of education.

Minimum Wage

Kennedy said the threat of President Eisenhower's veto prevented enactment of a $1.25 minimum wage. Nixon replied that Congress could have overridden the veto except that, on this and some other Democratic legislation, the people supported Eisenhower's position. The bills, he said, were "too extreme."

Civil Rights

Nixon didn't mention this. Kennedy said: "I am not satisfied until every American enjoys his full constitutional rights."

Work For Disarmament

Eisenhower joined Nehru in pledging to press ahead toward world disarmament as the surest way to ease dangerous East-West tensions.

In his first face-to-face meeting with Nasser afterward, Eisenhower outlined the reasons he firmly opposes Khrushchev's one-man campaign to replace Hammarskjold with a triumvirate.

White House spokesmen declined to say whether Nehru and Nasser promised to side with the United States in trying to block Khrushchev's plan.

Nasser said his talk with Eisenhower was very friendly. The meeting helped strengthen relations with his government, he added.

Eisenhower, cheered on his arrival by 750,000 New Yorkers, endorsed Hammarskjold's stand a few hours after flying in from Washington, by way of Philadelphia.

10 Injured In Crash Of Airliner

MOSCOW (AP)—A four-engine Austrian airliner with 37 aboard crashed Monday night at Trukovo Village, seven miles outside storm-rashed Moscow, the Austrian embassy said early Tuesday.

The British-built Vickers Viscount was coming in from Vienna. A spokesman said it is probable that a number were killed but added that all that was known for certain was that 10 passengers were injured and had been hospitalized near Moscow.

Western newsmen sought permission to go to the crash scene. The plane, of Austria's national airlines, was last heard from 10 minutes flying time from the rain-swept and fog-shrouded Soviet capital.

Then radio contact was lost.

An embassy spokesman said it was possible the pilot was trying to make an emergency landing. The Austrian airline began regular weekly flights to Moscow last summer.

Kennedy Bumps Knee, Nixon Bruises Head

CHICAGO (AP) — The big moment came at 7:33 p.m., Chicago time. That's when Vice President Richard M. Nixon met Sen. John F. Kennedy in the prelude to their television debate.

The two contestants for the highest office in the free world shook hands once, and then shook hands three times again for photographers who kept insisting on "just one more."

Ironically, the meeting almost caused a casualty.

Nixon arrived first and already was on the stage when Kennedy came in.

Nixon, jumping up to greet his foe, bumped his head on a microphone directly over him. He ruefully rubbed the bruise and then advanced to meet Kennedy.

The vice president also bumped his knee as he got out of his car in front of the studio but he gave no indication it bothered him.

Nixon was hospitalized two weeks ago as a result of a knee injury suffered in a similar mishap while campaigning in Greensboro, N.C.

As they approached each other, Kennedy said, "Glad to see you." The nominees then shook hands.

Nixon said to his Democratic rival, "I see you had a big crowd in Cleveland."

Kennedy smiled and nodded.

The next subject of conversation between the two presidential candidates concerned sustains.

Nixon said: "I suppose you get a tan the same way I do—riding around in convertibles. You know, it's the wind that burns you, not the sun."

Kennedy's comment on this vital issue could not be heard by reporters.

Good Morning!

It's just as hard trying to keep a good man down as a good-for-nothing man up.

Ike Seeks Support Of India, Arabs

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower appealed Monday for "calm voices to help check renewed attacks by Russia and her allies against United Nations leadership."

At the same time, Eisenhower strongly backed U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold against Nikita Khrushchev's drive to fire him and revamp the international peace agency.

The President, topping off a busy day of personal diplomacy, sought support from India's Prime Minister Nehru and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

He met for one hour with each of the two neutralist leaders after flying from Washington via Philadelphia.

Work For Disarmament

Eisenhower joined Nehru in pledging to press ahead toward world disarmament as the surest way to ease dangerous East-West tensions.

In his first face-to-face meeting with Nasser afterward, Eisenhower outlined the reasons he firmly opposes Khrushchev's one-man campaign to replace Hammarskjold with a triumvirate.

White House spokesmen declined to say whether Nehru and Nasser promised to side with the United States in trying to block Khrushchev's plan.

Nasser said his talk with Eisenhower was very friendly. The meeting helped strengthen relations with his government, he added.

Eisenhower, cheered on his arrival by 750,000 New Yorkers, endorsed Hammarskjold's stand a few hours after flying in from Washington, by way of Philadelphia.

Praise Dag

A White House spokesman said Eisenhower and his secretary of state, Christian A. Herter, applauded the secretary-general's speech because it reflects entirely the U.S. position.

Hammarskjold, appearing before the full 96-nation General Assembly earlier in the day, defended himself against Khrushchev's complaints that he served as a Western tool.

Hammarskjold labeled Khrushchev's denunciations as aimed at the entire structure of the peace-making agency.

The President joined with the Indian leader in stressing importance of an international disarmament agreement in easing dangerous East-West tensions.

The Eisenhower-Nehru plea for disarmament also appeared to be an indirect slap at Khrushchev. The Soviet leader said Saturday that he might oppose any disarmament until the United Nations is revamped to suit him.

The President had scheduled his trip to New York to address a dinner sponsored by the Conference of Catholic Charities and added talks with national leaders to his program.

Eisenhower said at the dinner that free nations should share their freedom to rebuff dangers posed by "a powerful, secretive dictatorship."

Without mentioning the Soviet Union by name, Eisenhower called on all Americans to shun materialism and uphold the dignity of their fellow men everywhere.

Castro's speech lasted 44 minutes, wandering over virtually all international issues since the Spanish American War.

He had many of the representatives fascinated by his performance, although some took him in relays, walking out from time to time for breathers. It was so long that the assembly's steering committee, which had planned to take up urgent controversial measures, had to cancel its night meeting.

Soon after Castro finished, the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., James J. Wadsworth issued a statement.

"The record of the U.S. in its relations with Cuba is an open book. That book has been studied with great care by the Organization of American States. Most of the charges Prime Minister Castro made today have already been examined by the Organization of American States and rejected."

"My delegation will study the text of his speech with care and will reserve the right to comment more fully on it in the future," the statement said.

Cuban Calls For Revolution In Latin America

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro, applauded by Soviet delegates, made his U.N. debut Monday night with a call for revolution throughout Latin-America and an attack on both U.S. presidential candidates as ignorant and politically brainless. He also threatened to try pushing the United States — by legal means — out of its Guantanamo Bay naval base.

Castro's bitter attack on the United States came at a moment when President Eisenhower, playing a leading role in a Western counter-offensive against Soviet demands to shake up the U.N.'s structure, was appealing for "calm voices" in the rising diplomatic crisis.

Lumumba's Backers Beat Mobutu Aides

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Sixty of Premier Patrice Lumumba's supporters kidnapped two of Col. Joseph Mobutu's government commissioners Monday, reportedly in full view of a U.N. Ghana soldier detachment, then drove them out of town and beat them severely.

Infuriated, Mobutu again demanded—this time at a tense, three-hour meeting of the U.N. Command—that the Ghana brigade be withdrawn immediately from the Congo.

The 29-year-old strongman also called for withdrawal of Guinea troops, charging both Guinea and Ghana favor Communist-backed Lumumba in the Congo's power struggle.

Meddling In Congo

Mobutu first voiced these demands last week, charging that the two African nations were meddling in the Congo's internal affairs. Together their soldiers constitute almost 20 per cent of the 16,400-man U.N. force. The British-officered Ghana brigade totals 2,291 men; the Guinea battalion 749.

It appeared unlikely the U.N. staff, headed by Ambassador Patrice Rashwar Dayal of India, would agree to Mobutu's demand. U.N. officials have consistently maintained no Congolese authority can restrict the makeup of the command.

Dayal warned in a report to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, made public in New York Monday, that world peace may be endangered unless dissenting Congolese factions patch up their differences. Despite the internal difficulties, Dayal said, there is no doubt the U.N. presence has had a steady effect.

Castro Partisan Sought In Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI began distribution Monday of 140,000 "wanted" flyers for a Fidel Castro partisan in connection with the fatal shooting of a 9-year-old girl in a New York restaurant five days ago.

The man sought is Francisco Molina, 28, known as "Pancho el Gancho" — pancho the hook — because his missing right hand has been replaced with a metal hook.

The girl, Magdalena Urdaneta, and her parents, visitors from Venezuela, were having dinner in the restaurant when anti-Castro and pro-Castro demonstrators got into a brawl.

Castro took the U.N. stage in the afternoon, promised to try to be "brief," and went on for hours with a long diatribe against the United States. At one point, the Cuban leader told the delegates he "would welcome a revolution (in other Latin-American countries) which would force the American monopolists to give up their ill-gotten gains."

Castro then launched into an attack on the United States for its retention of its naval base at Guantanamo Bay, at the eastern tip of Cuba. The U.S. maintains the $70-million installations there under treaty and lease arrangements made with previous Cuban governments.

Castro called the base a constant threat to the Cuban people. "We never have spoken a single word of aggression which could be taken as implying an attack on Guantanamo. We don't want to give the imperialists an excuse to attack us. But if this base becomes a threat to our people, the revolutionary government is seriously considering request within the framework of international law that naval and military forces be withdrawn from the Guantanamo base," he said.

Khrushchev jumped from his seat in the assembly at this point and led the Communist bloc and the Cubans in a round of vigorous applause.

Castro's speech lasted 44 minutes, wandering over virtually all international issues since the Spanish American War.

He had many of the representatives fascinated by his performance, although some took him in relays, walking out from time to time for breathers. It was so long that the assembly's steering committee, which had planned to take up urgent controversial measures, had to cancel its night meeting.

Soon after Castro finished, the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., James J. Wadsworth issued a statement.

"The record of the U.S. in its relations with Cuba is an open book. That book has been studied with great care by the Organization of American States. Most of the charges Prime Minister Castro made today have already been examined by the Organization of American States and rejected."

"My delegation will study the text of his speech with care and will reserve the right to comment more fully on it in the future," the statement said.

Cyrus Eaton Fetes Khrush

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev, lunching off 14 carat gold plates with a group of North American capitalists Monday, said Russia is willing to resume disarmament talks—as long as they deal with total disarmament, rather than just the control of weapons.

The Soviet premier said he favors strict international control of disarmament. But, he said at a glittering Biltmore Hotel luncheon, where he was guest of Cleveland financier Cyrus Eaton, "We are demanding disarmament precisely under armaments."

Dear Abby

It's A Biased Attitude

Dear Abby: About three weeks ago I met a sailor at a dance. I am 16 and Jim is 19. We liked each other right away and he asked if he could see me again. I asked my mother and she said I couldn't go out with any sailors.

I told her I was going to a girl friend's house and I went with him anyway. When I told Jim I lied to go with him he was furious and made me promise I'd never do it again. He asked if he could meet my parents and show them he was respectable. When I asked them if they would please meet Jim they said no. Abby, he's the nicest boy I've ever known, but he refuses to see me without my parents' permission. And they refuse to meet him. What should I do?

HEART-BROKEN
Dear Heart Broken: You must accept the decision of your parents even though they are very unfair to condemn this young man and to refuse to meet him. The fact that he will not see you without your parents' permission proves he has character. Ask your parents again; perhaps they'll realize they are wrong and reconsider.

Dear Abby: I am fed up with invitations to baby showers, wedding showers and all the other kinds of showers for people I wouldn't know if I saw them on a bus. This has happened to me several times, and I am sick and tired of being told to buy a present for someone who wouldn't recognize me on the street. I am not poor, but I'm not rich, either. I enjoy buying gifts for people I know, but I am fed up on — BEING TAKEN

Dear Being: The solution is simple. When you are invited to a shower that gives you the impression that you are being soaked — turn it down.

Dear Abby: A girl who works with me recently got a letter from a man she just met, and it was signed, "Truly Yours." Now this girl is no kid, but she went fluttering all over the place, showing the letter around like it was a big deal. Isn't it true that most business and formal letters are signed "Yours Truly"? Then don't you think "Truly Yours" should also be considered impersonal and businesslike? She took it to mean the man was "truly hers," which is ridiculous. The girls at the office want your opinion.

THE GIRLS
Dear Girls: A formal and impersonal business letter is signed "Yours truly." But his letter was signed "Truly yours." So, maybe he meant business. Pull in your claws, girls.

State Highway Department Working On N'ld Roads

NEWFOUNDLAND — Road improvements are being carried out by the State Highway Department in the area, and are expected to be completed this week, according to Alton Boner, superintendent of highways for Wayne County.

A stretch of highway three and three-quarters miles in length beginning at the Wayne-Pike County line in Dreher Township near Green's Restaurant, and continuing to the Wayne-Monroe County line in LaAnna, (Route 90), is being resurfaced by a motorized paving machine. The 18-foot pavement is being applied in two layers, one consisting of a coarse or binder base applied directly to the old road surface. This is topped by a layer of wearing surface or fine stone, rolled in. The latter operation eliminates bumps or depressions.

Important Improvement
"It is quite an important improvement," Boner said this week. Foreman of the job is Arthur Fries, of Aldenville, who is working under the supervision of Edward Nonnemacher, assistant superintendent.

When the new surface is completed, the shoulders on each side will be built up to conform with the road level which will be approximately three inches higher than the old level.

In addition to this main improvement in the area, there will be re-filling work in the area where slides have occurred on Route 507 between Gouldsboro and Newfoundland; removal of earth which has crumbled in a cut one mile from Route 90 toward Gouldsboro; and restoration of a bank in that area.

Drains now under construction at the junction of Route 507 and 90 are also included in the highway department projects under way.

Crowds Cheer Eisenhower

NEW YORK (AP) — Huge crowds cheered President Eisenhower as he arrived Monday for personal diplomacy talks in an atmosphere of tensions stemming from the East-West power struggle in the United Nations.

Police estimated that 750,000 persons saw the President—thronging 8 to 10 deep on sidewalks, office workers leaning out skyscraper windows, and steelworkers perched on girders of new buildings.

Eisenhower scheduled at least four conferences with national leaders.

On his slate were talks with Prime Minister Nehru of India and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic. The President plans talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker. Eisenhower had lunch with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—a session that included discussion of the presidential campaign.

Monroe Traffic Deaths Dip In '60 Below 1959 Period

Record Harrisburg Bureau
HARRISBURG—Monroe County had half as many rural traffic fatalities during the first eight months of this year as those recorded in the corresponding period of 1959.

From January 1, 1960, to September 1 a total of five persons met death in auto accidents in Monroe. During the same eight months of last year 10 died in highway mishaps.

The decrease in the highway death toll in the county was disclosed today in a report by State Police Commissioner Frank G. McCartney.

The fatal crashes in this area were investigated by State Police Troop A of District Three.

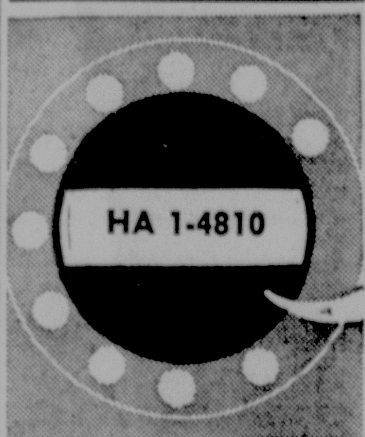

Others Show Rise
While Monroe had fewer road fatalities, most of the counties in the Keystone State showed an increase for the first eight months of this year over a like period in 1959.

Because of the seriousness of the overall traffic menace in Pennsylvania, plainclothes officers are now on patrol on most of the state's highways in an effort to maintain a strict enforcement of the motor vehicle code, Commissioner McCartney said.

Industrialization Is Establishing Its Mark

By Jack Gelinas
LAGOS, Nigeria — Industrialization is establishing its mark in Nigeria, and although most of the existing industries date back no more than 15 years to the middle 1940's, some such as cigarettes, soap and cement have gained considerable importance. Two new cement factories, one in the Eastern Region and another in the West, with an estimated annual capacity of 200,000 tons, are expected to go into production by the end of this year.

Many new industries are being planned for the immediate future. They include a $641,000 tin-smelting plant near Jos, Northern Nigeria; a sack factory also in the North, a glass factory in the East and a flour mill at Apapa, Lagos. Arrangements have also been finalized for the setting-up of a bicycle factory at Port Harcourt for the manufacture of frames and wheels for bicycles and mopeds. Also under consideration is a steel plant in the East, but this project hasn't yet reached stages beyond that of discussion.

Federal Government
To enable the Federal Government to carry out some of her various social and economic development projects, the United Kingdom and Israel governments have respectively agreed to loan Nigeria $42.8 million and $8.6 million after independence on October 1. Another loan of $28.5 million has already been obtained by the Federal Government from the International Bank for Reconstruction, whose president, Eugene Black, and his staff visited the country a few months ago.

Road transport still remains the most important means of transportation in the country and the Governments of the Federation continue to vote large sums of money for the improvement of existing roads and bridges and for the construction of new ones to meet the demand of an ever-increasing importation of vehicles of all classes. The railway system has been facing serious competition from road transport in the handling of produce (sounds familiar, doesn't it?). To combat this, the Nigeria Railways are currently engaged in a $114 million development project, which will include a 400-mile rail extension from Kuru, near Jos, to Maidugari in the extreme northeast.

Banking System
The growth of the banking system in Nigeria has kept pace with the overall economic development of the country. In the last 12 months, five new banks, including the Bank of America, have started business in the Federation. For the first time in the history of the country, the Central Bank of Nigeria, which was established last year, issued Treasury Bills, which were over-subscribed, and it is believed that this may lead the way to the introduction of a money market here in the near future.

During 1960, two well-known overseas companies — Nigerian Tobacco Company Limited and John Holt Overseas Limited — offered part of their stock capital for public sale to Nigerians. The issues of both companies were heavily over-subscribed. A stock exchange is also being actively developed and should open by the end of the year.

In other court action yesterday: Judge Davis accepted a guilty plea from Chester McClintic, 71, of East Stroudsburg RD 2, to passing worthless checks and deferred sentencing to the first Monday in November after it was pointed out that McClintic is making restitution.

Ronald Lutz, 22, Fairview Ave., Mt. Pocono, pleaded guilty to separate counts of fornication and assault and battery. He was fined $100 and costs on the fornication charge and placed on probation for 23 months and fined $200 and costs on the assault and battery count.

Clyde Graham, who entered a guilty plea on a larceny charge, was sentenced to six months to one year in Monroe County Jail.

Robert Michaels, serving a jail sentence for larceny, was paroled for the balance of his three to 18-month term.

Testimony Will Continue In Trial

PROSECUTION witnesses will continue their testimony this morning in the involuntary manslaughter trial of Henry A. Kennedy Jr., of South Orange, N. J., and Buck Hill Falls.

A jury of nine men and three women is hearing the case before Judge Fred W. Davis in Monroe County Court.

Yesterday's opening session was devoted to the selection of a jury, and expert testimony by State Police who investigated the accident in which Virginia Scally, 18, Wyndmoor, was killed.

When the trial recessed, Defense Atty. James C. Scanlon had just completed cross-examination of Miss Katherine Fitzgerald, who was walking beside Miss Scally when she was struck by Kennedy's car.

Report Hails Tocks Dam Park

THE TOCKS Island dam and its resulting reservoir and recreational area was hailed as "an example of the desirability of situating national parks near population centers" in a special report released yesterday.

The report was the fourth and final one in a study made by the Metropolitan Regional Council and the Regional Plan Assn.

Of the Delaware Valley in New Jersey, it said: "Tentative plans have been developed by the U. S. Corps of Engineers and the National Park Service for a natural reservoir and recreation area covering 50,000 acres."

"A dam would be erected at Tocks Island just upstream from the Delaware Water Gap and the Delaware Basin would be flooded to Port Jervis, 35 miles north."

"Two-thirds of the acreage would be in New Jersey, with the remainder in Pennsylvania. About 7,000 acres of New Jersey's share already is in state parks."

"The proposed park would be

Judge Davis Warns Pin Ball Owners

JUDGE FRED W. Davis yesterday warned pinball machine operators to avoid his court as he sentenced two men to $100 fines and costs each after they pleaded guilty to gambling charges.

Edward Dennis, proprietor of Dennis' Park Ave. Diner, Stroudsburg, and Stanley Kresge, Snyder'sville, an employee of the restaurant, were told by the jurist that the comparatively light sentence against them was due to the fact that they had been in business for only a short time and that they previously had a good reputation.

They were charged with paying the money equivalent for free games won on a pinball machine in the diner.

"First In Many"

Judge Davis said it was the first pinball case to come before him "in many years." He pointed out that the maximum penalty under the law was a year in jail and $500 fine.

"I'm not going to give you that," he told the defendants. "But only because of your previous reputations. Someone had better tell the pinball machine operators that the next case that comes in here will be dealt with more severely."

Detlef A. Hansen was attorney for the defendants. A similar charge against Dennis' wife, Anna, was not pressed.

Schweitzer Film To Be Shown Again

HIGH PRAISE for the film, "The Life of Albert Schweitzer," was heard last night at the close of the two showings presented at the Sherman Theater under sponsorship of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

The film will be repeated to-night with shows at 7 and 9 p. m.

As an added feature, the theater presented a one-reel film on Israel from the beginning of time. It was narrated by Edward G. Robinson.

Special guests at last night's shows were residents of Laurel Manor, home for the aging, who were invited by the sponsoring church and by Mickey Bernstein, theater manager.

Get Behind Club

Just as good music soothes and relaxes us, so does the spoken word have a very definite effect on our inner senses and our thought-provoking machinery.

It is on the premise that our minds should be stimulated rather than be allowed to become rusty that such groups as the Dutch Treat Clubs are built.

These clubs — one of which has experienced a fruitful life in the Stroudsburg area — have prospered down through the years because (1) of the communities' desire to attract outstanding speakers and personalities to their midst, and (2) the wide variety of talent available to satisfy the hunger for more knowledge about subjects of general interest.

The Dutch Treat Club of the Stroudsburg has launched its annual campaign for members — both renewals and new members.

Interest is running high because of the exceptionally fine program already arranged for the coming season. The program, which was selected by a poll of the membership at the close of last year, is described as the best in the history of the local club.

Even so, the club finds itself in a precarious position. It needs more members than ever before in order to survive because of the added expense thrust upon it when the National Dutch Treat Club withdrew its financial support from the local clubs.

The 1960-61 season opens Thursday, Oct. 6, with a talk by Louis Untermyer, er, poet, critic and authorologist. Vincent Sheean, author and journalist, comes here Nov. 10. No program is planned for December.

On Jan. 5, Lady Cohen will tell of her five years in Uganda as wife of the governor. Donald J. MacNamara, dean of the New York School of Criminology, will speak on "Is There a Mafia?" on Feb. 9.

The speaker on March 9 is Hensleigh C. Wedgwood, descendant of the English pottery family, whose topic will be "The Story of Wedgwood." The final program is April 6 with Frankie Frisch, baseball's colorful immortal, as the speaker.

Surely, such a program should appeal to hundreds of area residents and the club should have no trouble in meeting its added obligation. We owe it to ourselves to keep the Dutch Treat Club operating on a sound, growing basis, because we are the ones who will benefit through the appearance of leading world personalities in our community.

Unlike most campaigns, the Dutch Treat Club does bring direct benefits to us in the form of greater knowledge, wider viewpoints and fine entertainment. Let's give it a boost.

You can do so by contacting one of the officers: Tom Waring, president; Dr. Robert Brown, vice president; Robert O. Schell, treasurer, or Mrs. Eric Schuchard, secretary. Or you may join through one of the other members. Either way, you will be assuring yourself of something very worthwhile at a very moderate cost.

Who Is The Swindler?

It is no overstatement to say our relations with Cuba are looking pretty dismal. But the situation does sometimes seem to have its ridiculous aspects.

At the meeting of the Inter-American Economic Conference in Bogota, Columbia, Cuba's economic minister Recino Boti, in a 40-minute tirade, lashed out at American aid to Latin America as a swindle and a tool of imperialist aggression.

Later, however, he told newsmen that Cuba would be willing to accept U.S. aid, if no conditions were attached. This one makes us scratch our head as we try to figure out who's attempting a swindle.

Williamsport Sun-Gazette

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Is It Progress?

Education is the accumulation of knowledge in an orderly manner. This function begins almost at birth.

We learn to identify objects; to know persons; to establish preferences as a baby; to establish a stranger, the family dog to a prowler, the doll that the baby takes to bed to the smoke of a cigarette.

In time, the child learns to walk, to talk, to fear, to be careful, to know what is permissible, what is good and what brings punishment. If there is no punishment, everything is good and is permissible. This process continues through out life, but there is a period between the ages of five and 18 when the process of learning is accelerated and when it occupies the child's principal attention and time.

It is the period when the child, beginning with kindergarten, goes to elementary school and to high school. The basic education of the individual is laid down in those years. If it is not done properly and adequately then, it is likely never to be done at all.

Education is discipline of the mind and of the personality.

Without discipline, a human being becomes a barbarian no matter how much veneer is used to clothe the person in the trappings of the day.

In the early school years, the child learns first the simple mechanics of acquiring knowledge, reading, writing, mathematics, the processes of nature, something about the physical sciences, some history something about government, the distinction between one language and another, hygiene, and such fundamentals.

But there is another period of all this. This prolonged period of intense education must include drilling in self-restraint which is the essence of character-building, patriotism which is more than love of country — it is self-respect; and in a well-organized society, the child is safeguarded from ugly egotism by discovering that there is a Power beyond himself, outside of himself, whose majestic intelligence brings balance into the universe and makes for righteous living.

The child discovers advantages of self-restraint and the value of dignity of person. The child also learns communal living, of belonging. The best portrayal of this phenomenon currently on television is "Dobie Gillis."

This is the beginning of education and if it is incomplete, has been completed, and VA must receive a certificate of attendance signed by you and a representative of the school, before it can start payment. Usually it takes another three weeks for the check to reach you. That is why VA always urges veterans to be prepared for a two-month delay in receipt of the first check.

Veterans Guide

Q—When does a veteran at school under the Korean GI Bill get his school allowance from VA? My first month of classroom work is almost over and I have not yet received my allowance.

A—Under law, school allowances may not be paid until after classroom work for the month covered by VA's check has been completed, and VA must receive a certificate of attendance signed by you and a representative of the school, before it can start payment. Usually it takes another three weeks for the check to reach you. That is why VA always urges veterans to be prepared for a two-month delay in receipt of the first check.

"I Think I'll Try This For A Change!"

By Robert Clark, City Editor

Off The Record

ABOUT THE AREA

Ted Hoffman, East Stroudsburg businessman, "One of these days we'll have a football game on the night I'll be able to go."

Marty Baldwin, The Pocono good-will man, "It's great to have a position like mine and be able to come in contact with such wonderful persons. However, it would be nice if I could stay put in the Stroudsburg once in awhile."

William Nixon, nationally known fund-driving personality of Stroudsburg, "Believe me, I've been around the horn and there is nothing like the Pocono on the face of this earth."

Dr. Gail Fegley, Stroudsburg optometrist, "Football is a great game but I can't wait until the basketball season gets under way."

Dr. Joseph Viglione, Stroudsburg medical man, "Penn State all the way or bust."

Dr. Frank Sills, East Stroudsburg State College director of health and physical education, "The state conference on heart diseases was of great benefit to all in attendance. Monroe County was well represented at the sessions."

Atty. Ed Krawitz, Stroudsburg counsellor who lives in East Stroudsburg, "The University of Pennsylvania is the finest school — not only in the state but in the nation."

Harold Neyman, stock market expert of Stroudsburg, "With the sun shining and the temperatures in the 70s there is nothing finer than breathing the air of these mountains."

Zig Viechnicki, East Stroudsburg businessman, "It certainly would be nice if a ticket agency for New York events was set up in the area. Let's see what we can do about it."

When one reads that because of a shortage of teachers or the high cost of teachers, closed television will be used to educate children, it is impossible not to wonder if all these mechanical devices really mark progress.

They may represent superior budgetary methods but they do not serve to educate. It is undoubtedly true that it is possible to learn that one plus one equals two through a machine, but no machine can inspire love of God, love of country, respect for parents, respect for other human beings.

It takes a human being to translate these great human qualities into ideals of life. The mechanization of education is not progress; it is only commercialization. It is a commercial substitute for the spiritual side of education without which the mechanical side is useless.

The principal fault of our colleges is that the professors of character and personality do not teach freshmen but graduate students. It is the freshmen who need the inspiration of great minds, so that they may devote themselves to learning zealously.

The Pennsylvania Story

Women In Politics

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — The pots and pans department unquestionably is coming into its own in Pennsylvania.

In fact in some instances the din is deafening. In the final analysis, it is a trend that has been on the increase — with little indication it is about to slow down or even taper off.

A look at the political fact sheet for the Keystone State shows clearly that members of the distaff side are intent on making themselves heard — getting in the last word, as it were.

Back in 1946, Democratic women as such were in a definite slump — with only 862,204 of the species being recorded that year. Republican women on the other hand were very much alive — so much so that they outnumbered their Democratic counterparts by a healthy 437,461, or a total of GOP female registration that year of 1,299,665.

That was nearly 15 years ago. Today there has been a dramatic change, and as the spring registration books stood, showed Pennsylvania Democratic women climbing from 862,204 in 1946 to 1,247,441 this year — or a gain of 385,237, a particularly interesting fact in light of overall increase in registration of women of both parties from 1946 to 1960, of 384,609!

How well did Republican pots and pans clatter during the 1946-1960 period? Not as well, by a carload of coffee cups. GOP women decreased rather than increased their registration — by 628 — but still held a 52,224.

On the male side, donkey riders in Pennsylvania during the period increased their number by 303,220 — while male elephant riders decreased in number from 1946 by 171,098. Looking at it further from the pipe-smoking side, in 1946 Republican men outnumbered their Democratic brethren by 45,738 — but as of 1960 there are 28,580 more Democratic men on the rolls than Republicans.)

Both parties in this fall's campaign are making a big pitch in the direction of the distaff vote — and obviously now, not without good reason!

Pennsylvania Democrats are pulling out all the stops in their determined bid to fluff the powder puff. Already embattled in the campaign wars is Democratic Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt, first woman ever to be elected to a statewide office.

And too, Pennsylvania Democrats have the only woman on the statewide ticket this year in the person of Mrs. Grace Sloan, of Clarion County, candidate for state treasurer.

Undeniably, the pots and pans department is coming into its own in Pennsylvania — anyone for Governor?

Joe Lewis came out of retirement to fight Ezzard Charles in an attempt to regain his Heavyweight Championship.

Miss Ruth Martin, librarian at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was struck by a car as she crossed the street at seventh and Main. She suffered a sprained ligament to the left leg and contusions to her back.

U.S. Military Reservation at Tobyhanna was converted into a labor camp for the W.P.A. The workmen will be assigned to the project of making Route 611 a four lane highway.

Mrs. James Besecker, Sr., and Mrs. Grace Whittaker left for a 10 day trip to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. De Barthe, of Foxtown Hill, returned from a week's vacation in Atlantic City, N. J.

"Repent, ye sinners, repent!" implored a saint evangelist at a revival meeting near Hollywood. "I'm game if you are," whispered a startlet in the audience to her escort, "but it will have to be in style. How about the repenhouse at the Beverly Hilton?"

The Allen-Scott Report

A-Tests May Resume

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — President Eisenhower is planning to announce the resumption of U.S. underground atomic tests next month unless Russia shows new signs of reaching an atomic test ban agreement with the U.S. and Britain.

The presidential announcement, signaling the end of a self-imposed two-year ban on atomic tests, is to be made in mid-October if the three power negotiations that open this week in Geneva fail to produce any genuine results.

That's the report that Secretary of State Herter has given to key members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy.

Secretary Herter, in private talks with the legislators, reported that the test ban showdown with Russia is being pushed for two reasons:

(1) To force the Soviets to fish or cut bait in the negotiations that have dragged on since October 1958;

(2) To satisfy the demands of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Armed Services to resume testing of nuclear weapons if no acceptable test ban agreement is in sight.

AEC Chairman, James A. McGowan particularly is urging resumption of further tests.

According to Herter, Chairman McGowan is of the opinion that Russia has been bootlegging tests in secret and that if the U.S. doesn't resume testing soon the Soviets could gain a decisive advantage in the weapons field.

To support his position, McGowan cites an AEC evaluation report that flatly states there is no known way to detect Soviet underground tests if they are being conducted.

The Navy is also impatient to begin tests of a number of improved nuclear warheads, including one for the Polaris, the intermediate range ballistic missile that is being developed for submarines.

New types of warheads for the Titan, Minuteman, and Pershing head the list of tests being sought by the Air Force and Army.

All of these tests can be safely conducted underground, according to Herter, and there would be no need to lift the ban against atomic tests above ground or in the atmosphere.

Election Issue — What effect President Eisenhower's proposed announcement will have on the campaign is already being quietly weighed by Presidential Candidates Richard Nixon and John Kennedy.

Campaign aides of Vice President Nixon report that advance information about the test ban statement was one of the reasons why the Republican presidential candidate came out last week in favor of resuming underground tests if Soviet-U.S. negotiations continued to lag.

Senator Kennedy is also preparing a statement on nuclear testing to be made early next month.

If negotiations in Geneva continue in a deadlock, Senator Kennedy will urge a resumption of underground tests. He will also blast the Eisenhower Administration for failing to produce either a test ban agreement or new weapons in two years.

Secret Red Pact — The text of a "defense" pact between ex-President Patrice Lumumba and the Soviet Union is going to be made public soon by Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congo army strongman.

This information was given to Secretary of State Herter by an African diplomat who had just flown to the United Nations from the Congo for the General Assembly meeting.

The diplomat told Herter that the secret document authorized the Kremlin to send in troops and other "military and economic aid" to the Congo at the request of the now-cousted Lumumba.

Col. Mobutu will report that the discovery of the secret pact was the reason why he expelled all Soviet officials from his country.

On Guard — U.S. Army units in West Berlin are being given intensive riot suppression training daily to defend that city against a possible Communist-sponsored putsch. U.S. Intelligence, on the basis of intercepted documents, believes the East German Communists plan to stage a full-scale "rebellion" in the city next month by sending in thousands of agents to start street fighting. The riots would be used as an excuse for East German troops to move in "to restore order." Members of the Communist party, which has legal status in West Berlin, are expected to join in the riots.

Unrest in Syria has grown to such a stage that top Syrian army officers are secretly negotiating with Jordanian officials for assistance to break that Arab Republic. The Baath Party plans to use student and labor strikes in Syria to embarrass President Nasser's leadership of the UAR.

Just Between Us—

—By Bobby Westbrook

Glued to the television set watching Khrushchev pound the table at the UN or the Presidential candidates in debate, there still has been plenty of time, during commercials, for me to ponder the differences between American and Italian television.

We are a lot more efficient but they're a lot more serene about it all. There's no sense of pressure in Italian television since programs wonder on and off at will. If a program goes over its time limit, what's the rush? There aren't any commercial sponsors howling for blood.

Oh, they have commercials on the government-sponsored television, but they are confined to a 15-minute program all their own, a program of nothing but commercials and very entertaining they are, too, with pantomimes and little dramas and good music.

In fact, the commercials are more entertaining than some of the programs, many of which consist of reruns of old American films: Laurel and Hardy speaking Italian is an unforgettable experience—but not much funnier than hearing Roderick Crawford speaking Italian on Highway Patrol or the Italian version of Perry Mason's "I object." The Italian voices are so skillfully dubbed in that even if you know better you can't lip-read the English.

It is when a program runs short that the true charm of Italian television comes through. They simply have what they call "intervalle" which may be moving pictures of almost anything from fish swimming in swaying reeds to sailboats floating in—perhaps even chewing their ends placidly in a flower-starred meadow.

At first you wait patiently for something to happen—something, at least the lead-up to a commercial—but when you come to realize that nothing is going to happen you find a peculiar serenity in just watching. The photography is superb and fish or cows or boats are very peaceful.

The same peaceful quality carries over into the program for "Ragazzi." The children's programs are a sacred part of each day and while they include many of the American cartoons which need no dubbing, they also include such peaceful interludes as a half hour of watching collie puppies at play. Not doing anything, mind you, but romping around, stretching, yawning, having a tug of war or just being puppies. It's enchanting and should make it much easier to settle the children to sleep.

In fact, so sacred is the children's hour that it took international pressure before Italian television would continue Olympic coverage through the time devoted to children. They are so conscious of the effect of television on children that no news of violence is allowed to creep into the six o'clock news.

Even the day of the riots in Rome, which made headlines around the world, there was no mention of them on the Rome news program at 6 o'clock. You had to wait until 11 when presumably the women and children were safely out of harm's way, and then it was only verbal, not picture coverage.

They do have entertaining programs of their own and make a big to-do over covering art exhibits, archeological discoveries, bridge dedications, agricultural methods, and visiting movie stars. And they have their television idols.

Mario Riva was one. The Jack Paar of Italy, he master of ceremonies one of their big quiz shows. Just before the Olympics he came prancing on carrying an Olympic torch, and disappeared through a hole in the floor. A laugh heard throughout Italy rang out—but it was soon hushed when they found out he'd fallen some thirty feet through construction work, and had really been seriously injured.

As he weakened, we got meal-time bulletins on his condition from the mail: he was denied all visitors, except his wife and his mistress; his mistress had promised if he got well, she'd never see him again; he had never given the final rites of the church; he was dead; and the meal was salted with her tears, and churched all over Italy were draped in black.

When I was in Rome, I was often critical of Italian TV, especially their news coverage which had far too much corner-stone laying, bridge-openings and government dignitaries being dignified to suit me. But now that I'm home, I have an impulse to keep asking "What's your hurry?" when a panel discussion is cut off in the most interesting part or they don't have time to finish a bowling match. But we can't have it both ways.

Final Social Note For Emily Post

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Emily Post, 87, internationally famous authority on the social graces, died Sunday at her East Side home.

Mrs. Post, author of "Etiquette: The Blue Book of Social Usage," utilized not only books but also newspapers and radio to advise on what is socially proper and improper.

Her first book on social usage, titled simply "Etiquette," was published in 1922. Since then, Mrs. Post has been considered the last word on good manners. Her basic rule of etiquette: Make the other person comfortable.

Born in Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Post was educated by governesses and at private schools in Baltimore and New York, where her family moved when she was 10. She married Edwin Main Post in 1892.

Besides her bible on good manners, she also wrote "The Title Market," "The Personality of a House," "Children Are People," and "The Emily Post Cookbook."

Her original "Etiquette" met immediate nationwide success and has continued to sell steadily through its 10th revision and 89th printing.

For many years, Mrs. Post had a radio program of her own, Her daily column is syndicated in more than 200 newspapers. Her busy life as a counselor on social good form brought her so much correspondence that she had to set up a special office to handle it.

In 1946, she founded the Emily Post Institute to put out publications updating correct social usage. The institute said it will continue her column and keep her books up to date.

For more than two decades, Mrs. Post has been a powerful authority on etiquette. She has been called to settle such questions as, "Is dunking doughnuts correct?" and, "Should elbows rest on dining room tables?"

On the doughnut issue, Mrs. Post ruled: "Any place that would have doughnuts would be like a picnic where—short of smearing wet doughnut from ear to ear—you could do pretty much as you pleased. You wouldn't have doughnuts at a formal dinner anyway."

About elbows, she said: "The rule is against elbows on table while eating. If not using arm as a lever swing a fork or spoon from plate to mouth, it really makes no difference."

The Wyckoff Shopper

The "friendly store" A.B. Wyckoff STROUBSBU, PA.

FLASHBACK

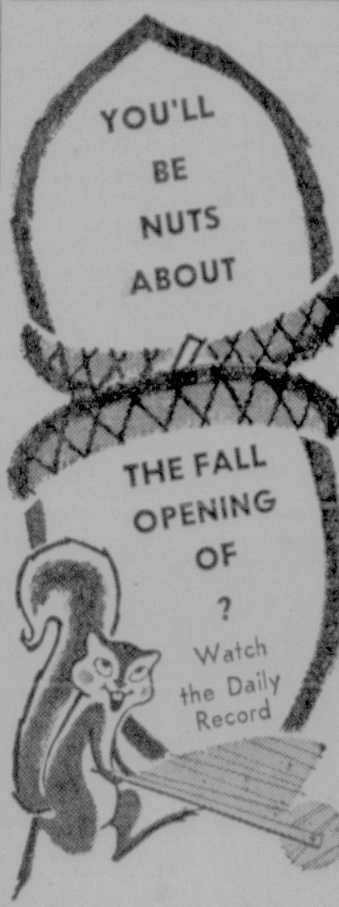

So you think the New York police have their hands full this minute? Well... they do. But as of Friday when this column was written, so do the women of Wyckoff's. "It's like a beehive in this place," Ernie Transue commented, when he encountered all the buzzing and commotion in our lounge, where he stopped for coffee and a doughnut after our broadcast. This was a very refined and complimentary remark... as well as true. There were others, not so polished but equally exact.

Pearl Walter, Miss Universe, is perhaps busier than anyone else. Not only does she have to see, as president, that all the rest of us do whatever it is we've been told to do, but she must also please the customers, keep smiling even if she aches to the point of falling apart, and talk intelligently with a salesman who happened by at this very inconvenient time.

As for me... my schedule's a cinch compared to hers, but it still has me hopping. After the broadcast, there came the business of judging costumes on every floor (a difficult task very neatly and quickly accomplished by Helen Rice Steffen and WVPO manager, Chet Miller.) Then there are announcements to be made at half hour intervals over the amplifying system... a bit of shopping to do (the values are dazzling!)... radio spots and this column to write... and commentary to be put together for a fashion show this evening (at 9:30—after a ten hour day!) at Swiftwater. There isn't even time to stop and chat awhile with all one's friends who are visiting the store... and at 1:45 my feet are already beginning to rebel.

At lunch time when one might ordinarily relax and forget about Women's Days, and what is happening on the selling floor of Wyckoff's, it is impossible to get away from it all. At least, not in the employees' lounge. There, in all stages of dishabille, are selling floor personnel, who have ripped off the fancy furbelows of the morning to enjoy their food in peace. Japanese girls have thrown their kimonos aside and are wearing shorts and blouses... the men have their ties off and their collars open... and everyone is excitedly recounting any number of amusing events that occurred during the morning.

Women's Days are always delightful when they come. But, like a difficult mother-in-law who prolongs her visit (or maybe we should say like a visiting Chairman who doesn't know when he's worn out the welcome mat), they're even more delightful when they go. I like 'em best when they have become just a series of colorful memories and heart-warming statistics.

O'Miss Retains First Dressen Picks Pirates To Win Series In Six

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Charlie Dressen, who twice has tried and twice has failed to beat the New York Yankees in a World Series, thinks the Pittsburgh Pirates are capable of doing it this year because of superior pitching.

"I like Pittsburgh to win," said the volatile Milwaukee manager today. "The Yankees have more power but the Pirates have the pitching to stop them. And they have Eloy Face for relief. If I had Face, Pittsburgh wouldn't be in it. That's what cost me the pennant; no relief pitching."

Dressen said the Yankees' big edge was in experience since a majority of them are World Series veterans while only three Pirates — Don Hoak, Clem Labine and Gino Cimoli — have seen series competition.

Pirates In 6
"If the Pirates can shake off those three games they lost to us, said Charlie, "and they start hitting like they have all year, I don't see how it will go seven games. Pittsburgh will win it in six."

"The Yankees are far from unbeatable. The Yankees' real power is left handed; that means they have trouble with a good left-hander and Pittsburgh has two of them in (Vinegar Bend) Mizell and (Harvey) Haddix.

"The pitcher who should give the Yankees the most trouble, though, is Vernon Law. He's got to start with Bob Friend working the second game. Mizell would be my choice to pitch the third game, the first one in Yankee Stadium."

In a comparison by departments, Dressen gives the edge to the Pirates in defense and speed as well as in pitching. He rates the Yankees better only in power.

Dressen's Ratings
On a man-to-man basis, Dressen rates the Yankees better only at first base, in center field and behind the plate. Here's his breakdown:

"First base—Skowron is a better hitter than either Stuart or Nelson. He has the edge in fielding when Stuart is playing."

"Second base — Richardson is good but he can't play second base better than Mazeroski, who also is much better hitter."

"Third base — I don't know how good Boyer is. I never saw him play third but I'll take Hoak."

"Shortstop — From what I've seen of Kubek & Groat is better in the field and at bat."

"Right field—I'll take Clemente over Maris because of his speed. "Center field—I've got to give the edge to Mantle over Virdon or Cimoli because of his arm, speed and power."

"Left field—I'll have to take Skinner over Lopez, who is a good hitter but hurts you in the field."

"Catcher—Berra is the best although he won't outthrow Smith nor outbait Burgess. Seven years ago there would have been no contest."

Syracuse Is Rated Runnerup

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

MISSISSIPPI clung to a narrow margin over Syracuse Tuesday in their tight two-team battle for the No. 1 position in the Associated Press' weekly college football poll.

Washington continued as the only other serious bidder for first place although the two perennial pace-setters grabbed 42 of the 42 top votes of the special panel representing all sections of the country.

Mississippi, which smashed Kentucky Saturday night 21-6 for its second victory, was named best on 22 of the ballots and Syracuse the defending national champion, on 20. Washington, in third place, received five votes and the other one went to Northwestern.

12th Straight
Syracuse opened the new season with a casual 35-7 triumph over Boston University—the team's 12th straight and the 18th in a row for regular season play. Washington crushed Idaho 41-12.

Illinois, 17-6 victor over Indiana, held fourth place but below that position the weekly standings underwent a lively shakeup, featured by the rise of three Big Ten teams — Northwestern, Iowa and Ohio State.

Kansas, which whipped Kansas State 41-0 as a prelude to its televised tilt with Syracuse this week, rose from 11th to fifth. Then followed, in order, Northwestern, Clemson, Iowa, Ohio State and Georgia Tech.

The top teams with first place votes and season records in parentheses (points based on a 10-8-7, etc., order):

1. Mississippi (22) (4-0) 426
2. Syracuse (20) (1-0) 414
3. Washington (5) (2-0) 353

NL Sets Record In Attendance

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League has broken its attendance record, an Associated Press survey revealed Monday.

Including Sunday's games, the senior baseball circuit had a total of 10,344,909 paid admissions for 1960. This eclipsed the mark of 10,338,476 set in 1947. The major league record of 11,150,099 established by the American League in 1948 is out of the National's reach.

Both leagues are showing marked increases over last season. The National is 767,000 ahead of its 1959 aggregate while the American is up 371,000.

Holes In One

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Knoxville dentist, Dr. J. E. Allor, scored two holes-in-one in the same round of golf.

Allor carded the aces on the sixth and 17th holes at Deane Hill Country Club Sunday. He used a 5-wood on the 152-yard No. 6 and a 6-iron on the 134-yard No. 17—both uphill shots.

Allor is a weekend golfer and normally shoots around 85. He had an 80 Sunday.

Pocono TD Club Hears Gene Kelly

SOME 35 FOOTBALL fans attended the opening meeting of the Pocono Touchdown Club in the Towne Room of the Town Tavern yesterday.

Gene Kelly, one of the leading sports broadcasters in Pennsylvania spoke to the luncheon about the problems of broadcasting sporting events, particularly football.

"When you broadcast a football game on radio," the former Marshall College athlete said, "you can lie about a great many things, especially about giving credit for tackles. It is difficult to tell who made the tackle on every play."

He added that the top announcers make it a point to give proper credit for tackles, because it is one of the few forms of recognition that defensive players receive.

"The hometown listeners of the boy that made the tackle," he explained, "are especially interested."

Facilities A Problem
Broadcasting facilities were also named as a problem.

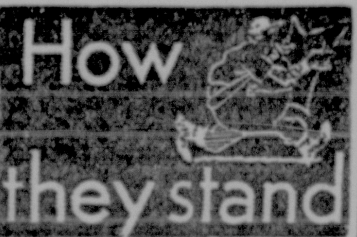

"The radio booth at Penn State's new stadium," Kelly said, "is so far above the playing field, that you could go up there with a 101 degree fever and be cured by the high altitude."

Kelly, a former Philadelphia Phillies' announcer, broadcasts the Penn State football games on radio and handles the commentary for the video-tape re-broadcasts of the University of Pennsylvania games on Sunday.

In a short business meeting the TD club voted to meet weekly instead of the bi-weekly as originally planned.

A movie session will also be held a half-an-hour before each meeting. The films will include local high school and college games and several national football productions.

Top Handicapped Athlete Named

ROME (AP) — Ron Stein of O'Fallon, Ill., emerged the top handicapped athlete of the world with a runaway victory in the pentathlon of the International Wheelchair Games which ended Sunday.

Paul Sones, of Montgomery, Pa., placed third in the pentathlon which climaxed the week-long competition among paralyzed athletes from 22 countries. Both Stein and Sones are students at the University of Illinois.

Stein is a polo victim. Sones was paralyzed when he was injured in an airplane crash at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Stein's point total for the five events (shot put, club throw, javelin, archery and swimming) was 7,994. Santini of Italy was second with 4,717.

Solid Team Victory Gave Pirates Their Success

By The Associated Press

NO MATTER how you analyze it, the Pittsburgh success story of 1960 must be interpreted as a solid team victory.

No one man can take all the bows. Not even Dick Groat, the Pirate captain and shortstop, and leading candidate for player of the year honors. Not even Vern Law, the Bucs' 20-game winner, or Eloy Face, the superb left relief artist, or Roberto Clemente, the big RBI man and darling of the fans.

Not even Danny Murtaugh, the unobtrusive manager whose guidance and undemonstrative masterminding has been the steady influence. Not even Joe Brown, the 42-year-old general manager, whose shrewd trades and behind-the-scenes activities have been highly instrumental in the team's success.

Jelled As Unit
If ever a team jelled as a unit, with every able-bodied man contributing his bit, this was it. It's a team with no dynamic star of the calibre of Willie Mays, or Stan Musial, but a squad of hungry players who complement and get along well with each other.

Groat is the inspirational leader, Don Hoak is the take-charge guy, Bill Mazeroski is the defensive stalwart, Clemente is the RBI guy, Bob Skinner and Dick Stuart are the long-ball hitters and Bill Virdon, Smokey Burgess and Hal Smith are the steady performers.

Another big factor has been the Pirates' strong but unspectacular pitching. Law and Bob Friend, the veteran of the staff, have been the mainstays, but fireman Face, southpaw Harvey Haddix and (Vinegar Bend) Mizell and lesser lights Fred Green, Joe Gibbon, Tom Cheney and late arrival Clem Labine have made important contributions.

Face, who took part in 63 of the Pirates' first 138 games, has won nine and saved 15. Mizell, who came from the Cardinals last May with a 1-3 record, has won 11 of 16 decisions. Labine, picked up as a free agent in mid-August, won two games and saved four others. Four of Haddix' 11 triumphs have been against arch-rival Milwaukee.

Pocono Archers To Hold Bowhunt Clinic Tonight

THE MONTHLY business meeting of the Pocono Archery Assn. will be held tonight at 7:30 at the field range clubhouse.

The club is in the process of revising the association's constitution and by-laws. Amendments may be submitted by the membership during the special time period allotted for this purpose.

Delegates to the northeast regional meeting will give a report on that meeting which was held in Berwick.

Also slated for this meeting is a Bowhunters Safety Clinic. The activities will include demonstrations of the proper handling and shooting in conjunction with safe bowhunting practices. This clinic will be continued on Wednesday night when the public is invited to visit the range for individual instruction.

This clinic is organized in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Archery Assn. as part of a statewide effort by this group to maintain the excellent safety record bowhunting has already attained.

Wilma Rudolph Gets N. Y. Honor

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilma Rudolph, winner of three Olympic gold medals, received the city's medal of honor and a citation from Mayor Wagner Monday in a city hall ceremony.

"The citation was in recognition of her extraordinary qualities as an athlete and sportswoman."

The 20-year-old junior from Tennessee State College in Nashville won the 100- and 200-meter races and anchored the winning women's relay team.

Welter Title Bout Delayed

NEW YORK (AP)—The world welterweight boxing title match between champion Benny Paret of Cuba and Federico Thompson of Argentina was postponed Monday from Oct. 15 to Oct. 29 because of Paret's infected tonsils.

Paret, left for camp Monday to resume training but requested the two-week delay to permit him to regain his strength for the first defense of his crown.

Dies Of Injuries

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Terry Wanat of Meriden died Monday of injuries suffered in a high school football game.

The Maloney High School football player had been in the hospital since Saturday after suffering a brain hemorrhage in a game between Maloney and Conard High School of West Hartford.

Roseto Team Unbeaten

Mighty Schoolboy Elevens Crumble

HARRISBURG (AP) — The mighty have really fallen in Pennsylvania High School football ranks.

Braddock, Ambler, Avella and Northampton — with four of the most impressive strings in the state until last weekend—were just one of the crowd today.

They may get more company this weekend.

Braddock's fabulous string—46 straight victories, 56 games without a defeat—was snapped by Hopewell last Saturday, 7-6. There are others on Braddock's schedule who would have been given a better chance of ending the Tiger's string. But that honor went to Hopewell (which already had been beaten this season) and the latter has recorded its only little footnots to the pages of sports history.

Ambler, with 22 straight victories, was expected to lose this season. That happened Saturday when Bux-Mont Conference rival Harboro applied the coup de grace, 15-14. Ambler's string was the third best.

Losses 7-0
Northampton was ranked third on the unbeaten list, with 17 straight, but Phillipsburg of New Jersey, always a headache to its Pennsylvania rival, accomplished a 7-0 opening game victory.

Avella hadn't lost in 29 games, although it had been tied during that string. But it all became academic when Follansbee St. Anthony made off with a 60-0 victory.

Almost unnoticed, Bradford and Farrell also fell from the list of holdover unbeaten from 1959, paring that list down to 12. There were 29 at the start of the '60 campaign.

Johnstown moved to the fore of the long-run unbeaten. Its 33-20 decision over New Kensington was its 23rd in a row. Next in line is Wyomissing, from Berks County, with 15 straight.

Plus X Unbeaten
Also unbeaten since 1958 are Avonworth, Charleroi, Clifton Heights, Kingston Catholic, Lancaster, Masontown, Moniteau, Plus X of Roseto, Scott Twp. (North Braddock) and Wilkes-Barre Meyers.

Young Trio Named To Davis Team

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States Monday named a trio of youngsters—Earl Buchholz, Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston—to team with veterans Bernard Bartzen and Barry MacKay in the campaign to recover the Davis Cup from Australia.

The tennis squad, headed by Captain David Freed, will leave for Australia around Oct. 31 for appearances in various Australian state tournaments and two inter-zone matches leading to the challenge round.

The Americans, who clinched their zone title a week ago, will play the Philippines, the Eastern Zone champions, and, if victorious, will take on Italy's European winners for the right to meet Australia. Dates and sites haven't been set.

Albright Faces Scranton U In Pretzel Bowl Oct. 22

READING — Gov. David L. Lawrence will head a list of public officials who will attend the 10th annual Shrine Pretzel Bowl football game in Albright College Stadium on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 22, Leon S. Bilmline, managing director, announced today.

This is the first time a Pennsylvania governor has ever attended one of these charity events, Bilmline said. Plans are now being considered to fly the governor by helicopter directly into the stadium.

The Albright College Lions and the Scranton University Royals will clash on the gridiron at 2 p.m. Pagantry, which will be highlighted by a parade, will begin at 12:15 o'clock.

Harold Lord, director of pagantry, announced that the number of musical organizations participating in the pagantry has grown to 14.

Nine of these units are high school bands from Eastern Pennsylvania, two are college bands and three come from the membership of Rajah Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, which sponsors the Pretzel Bowl games.

Perhaps one of the most unique musical organizations to participate will be the Oriental Band, made up of Shriners from Allentown.

The Rajah Temple Brass Band and the Rajah Temple String Band also will help to enliven the occasion, along with the bands from the Albright and Scranton schools.

This telegram came from Mayor

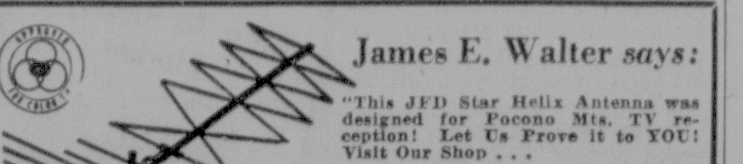

Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia:

"Congratulations from an eighth-place city to a first-place city. . . . "It certainly is a happy day for Pittsburgh, but wait until next year."

AL Champs Run Winning Streak To 10

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York made its first start as American League champs a winning one Monday night, showing across two runs in the 10th inning for a 4-2 victory over Los Angeles.

"The Yankees clinched the pennant Sunday. Monday night's win was their 10th straight."

Dale Long, with his second home run and a run-producing single, led New York's 11-hit attack. Long put the Yankees ahead with his bases empty homer in the second.

County To Be Represented At State 4-H Horse Show

MONROE County will have three representatives in the State 4-H Horse and Pony Show in Harrisburg, Nov. 11.

Mary Anne Holgren, Saylorsburg RD 1; Cathy Shick, Henryville RD 1, and Dave Dorshimer, Brodheadsville, will be the representatives.

They won the claim after taking either a first or second place in the District 4-H Horse and Pony Show held recently at the fair grounds in Allentown.

Mary Anne Holgren won top honors by placing first in the Saddle Seat Section of the Equitation Class.

Cathy Shick was the second place winner in the difficult trail class and Dave Dorshimer placed second in the barrel race.

Others to win from Monroe County were Brian Fenner, Brodheadsville, fourth place in Grooming and Showmanship; David Smale, fifth place in the same class.

Billy Miller, Kunkletown RD 2, placed third in the Pony Section of the Pleasure Class, just missing the state event.

Walter Smith, Stroudsburg RD 3, won a fourth place ribbon in the Yearling and Two-year old Class and sixth place in the Western Working Class. Lloyd Wieland Jr., Kunkletown RD 2, also competed in the Western Working Class and came home with a seventh place ribbon.

The Monroe County 4-H Drill Team, under the direction of Edward Arnold, presented a program prior to the afternoon show.

Walter Thomas, Branchville, N. J., and Weston Fenner, Brodheadsville, were the judges for the events.

Entered in the show were 65 horses from seven counties competing for honors.

Conservation Payments To Be Made After Oct. 1

ANNUAL payments due Monroe County farmers who have Conservation Reserve contracts will be made during October according to D. H. Griffith, chairman of the Monroe County agricultural stabilization and conservation committee. Griffith made the announcement in response to numerous questions about the time when payments would be made.

Control Grubs In Turf, Lawn

THERE ARE many grubs that injure grass in lawns and turf. Most common in Pennsylvania are the grubs of the Japanese beetle, May beetle, and Asiatic beetle. All of these grubs eat off the roots of grasses.

This permits the grass to be rolled back from the soil like a carpet where a heavy infestation occurs. A new generation of Japanese beetle grubs are now developing in areas having the Japanese beetle.

The application of insecticides to control grubs can be made at anytime of the year, when the ground is not frozen, the best time to make these applications is in the fall or early spring. Fall rains help to wash the insecticides into the soil, and an application in September will prevent fall injury from Japanese beetles and other grubs.

Among the materials that can be used to control grubs are aldrin, chlordane, dieldrin, and heptachlor. Any of these materials gives protection from the injury by grubs for three to five years.

The amounts of materials to use for each 1,000 square feet of lawn or turf depends on the insecticides used.

A suggested list is: Aldrin, 50 percent wettable powder, 3 ounces; Aldrin, 2 percent granular, 4 pounds; Chlordane, 40 percent wettable powder, 10 ounces; Chlordane, 5 percent granular, 5 pounds; Dieldrin, 50 percent wettable powder, 2 1/2 ounces; Dieldrin, 5 percent granular, 1 1/2 pounds; Heptachlor, 25 percent wettable powder, 5 1/3 ounces; Heptachlor, 2 1/2 percent granular, 4 pounds.

The insecticide may be mixed with about one bushel of sand or soil, or with the fall application of fertilizer and spread evenly over the surface, and watered in.

The wettable powder formulation of any of the materials may be sprayed on, using 10 to 20 gallons of water and then watering in with at least 25 gallons of water to each 1,000 square feet. Do not apply any of the insecticides with lime or inorganic nitrogen fertilizers.

Conservation Reserve Reminder

CHAIRMAN Earl Groff of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee yesterday reminded farmers with land in the Conservation Reserve of their continuing responsibility to refrain from using this land for grazing or harvesting any crop from it during the contract period.

"Even though we are not authorized to take new land into the Conservation Reserve," Groff said, "there has been no change in the regulations concerning the land retired from production under existing contracts.

The farmer is being paid an annual rate for compliance with his Conservation Reserve contract, and in most cases has already received his payment for a part of the cost of establishing a conservation practice on the land. In return, he is obligated to exercise his responsibility of withholding the land from production for the life of the contract."

There are 7,573 Conservation Reserve contracts in effect in Pennsylvania, involving a total of 328,301 acres of cropland. Of these contracts, 6,847 are "whole farm" contracts, covering all the cropland on the farm. Some of this land will be held out of production through the 1969 crop season.

Nationally, there is a total of about 28.6 million acres in the Conservation Reserve in 48 of the 50 States. The acreage involves part or all of the cropland on about 305,000 farms which have a total farmland acreage of 96.1 million acres, or nearly 10 percent of the total United States acreage in farms.

The Conservation Reserve program provides for limiting the production on the participating farms. In addition, new land may not be brought into production on these farms. On all participating farms the acreage normally used for the production of crops must be reduced.

On farms that have all cropland in the program all the acreage is withdrawn from crop production. Nationally 70 percent of participating farms have placed all cropland in the Reserve.

Pesticide Sales Ban In State

STATE Secretary of Agriculture William L. Henning announced that agents of the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry have been instructed to prosecute retailers of pesticides found making sales from bulk containers into unmarked cans and jugs.

"This is an extremely dangerous practice," Secretary Henning said. "In addition, it is a violation of the Pennsylvania Pesticide Act of 1957."

Delmar K. Myers, acting director of the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry, says that pesticides are considered to be misbranded if the labeling accompanying the pesticides does not contain instructions for use which are necessary for the protection of the public. If the label does not contain a warning or caution statement, and if the label does not bear an ingredient statement.

Lamb Records Should Be Retained

SHEEP producers who market unshorn lambs this fall should maintain full records on their sales in order to make proper applications for payment next spring under the wool incentive program, Pennsylvania Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee Chairman Earl Groff pointed out today.

Failure to keep full records in the past has prompted difficulties for producers in obtaining their unshorn lamb payments under the program, the Chairman stated. The sales records for lambs sold must include the name of the buyer, his signature, and the number and liveweight of lambs sold, plus the description "unshorn."

Lamb feeders who buy lambs should also keep accurate records of all their purchases of unshorn lambs, including dates of purchases and the number and liveweight when purchased.

Adequate records must be maintained by producers in order for them to certify to the accuracy of the information contained in payment applications. Inadequate reporting of lamb purchases on payment applications has presented problems in administering the wool program.

Lamb payments are made only on lambs that have never been shorn to encourage the customary practice of selling lambs with the wool on. Lamb payments are made to producers who have owned lambs 30 days or more. The payments are based on the wool incentive payment. The amount paid to each producer is based on the weight gain of lambs during the period of his ownership. Full information is necessary so that each producer can be given his proper share of the payment on a lot of lambs.

Christmas Dinner With Corn On The Cob

CORN ON THE COB at Christmas you say. Well that doesn't sound like a bad idea, particularly if you really enjoy corn on the cob.

The big question is where will I ever get corn on the cob? Well if canning is one of the jobs of the yesteryear and you care, here is a method to use so that you'll have corn on the cob on your Christmas table.

For the best results freeze small amounts, 12-15 ears. The freezer becomes too warm if too much food is stored at one time.

1. Husk the corn, clean off the silk and cut off the ends of the ears.

2. Boil the ears from five to eight minutes in bubbling water that covers the corn. A 16 quart pot about half-full of water will do nicely. Boiling kills the bacteria and corn will last longer.

3. Remove the ears and cool quickly in cold running water or place the corn in a basin with ice cubes until the corn is thoroughly cold. To test the ears hold one firmly in hand for a minute, if there is any heat left inside it will be felt. The cooling operation takes about 20 minutes.

4. Wrap two or three ears of corn together in freezer paper or cellophane. Wrap securely and press the paper tightly with a warm iron. The packs should be air tight for best results of preservation.

5. Store the packs in your freezer so that cold air can get to them quickly. Do not pile the packs on top of each other until they are thoroughly frozen.

"The kitchen is still the household's focal point," Mrs. Spader reports. "But the basement, which once posed a sort of mental block for the average housewife, today ranks high in her estimation and in her planning."

"A decade ago a new range or refrigerator was proudly shown off to visitors — and still is. But a tour of the basement was strictly taboo. Nobody could point with pride to a dark cellar dominated by an old furnace or boiler, a clutter of fuel bins or tanks and a battery of janitorial tools.

"Now basements are being transformed into family rooms. New gas furnaces or boilers are no bigger than office filing cabinets and virtually hide in a corner. The fuel is piped in and there is no longer a problem of storing fuel, tending fires, hauling ashes, watching water levels and cleaning chimneys."

No Conservation Reserve Signup This Fall

THERE WILL be no signup this fall of additional land or contracts under the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve. Earl Groff, chairman of the Pennsylvania agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, said today in response to inquiries from farmers regarding the status of the program.

Groff also said that program contracts which expire in 1960 or later are no longer eligible to be extended for an additional period of years.

"Under the soil bank act enacted in May of 1956," Groff explained, "the Secretary of Agriculture was authorized to enter into conservation reserve contracts with producers during the five-year period 1956-60."

"The signup under the 1960 program was held last fall, so that farmers would know in advance of the cropping season whether their land would be accepted into the conservation reserve. Since the authorization to enter into new contracts has not been extended beyond 1960, there will be no signup period this fall."

"Farmers should understand, however, that the existing contracts for 1960 and previous years will remain in effect and payments will continue to be made under them for the period of the contracts and in accordance with contract terms. The annual Department of Agriculture appropriation bills provide money with which to meet obligations already on the books."

There are 7,573 Conservation Reserve contracts in effect this year in Pennsylvania, involving a total acreage of 332,301 acres, Mr. Groff said.

PREVENT DAMAGE

COTTONTAIL rabbits often cause winter damage to young trees and shrubs by chewing the bark. The home gardener can prevent damage by using hardware cloth cylinders or layers of heavy weatherproof paper or aluminum foil.

Margaret Spader, GAMA home service consultant, says that whereas a few years ago women chose to talk first about the kitchen and then about the family room, laundry, dining space, living room, bedrooms, baths, storage areas and basement, in approximately that order, the sequence now has changed.

"The kitchen is still the household's focal point," Mrs. Spader reports. "But the basement, which once posed a sort of mental block for the average housewife, today ranks high in her estimation and in her planning."

Tips For Picking Your Pears

SINCE THIS has been a good pear year, I've been asked many times for information on picking. Pears should be picked partially immature, since the stone or grit cells may form if they are allowed to ripen on the tree. This also gives you better fruit quality.

There are some visible characteristics you can go by for determining pear maturity for picking. Look for a slight change in color (to a lighter shade of green). Also, a corking over of lenticels (small breathing openings). Some go by ease of separation of the stem from the spur.

Fruit on outside and on well-thinned branches usually ripens slightly ahead of those on inside or heavily set branches. Commercial growers harvest only once. Pears do not continue to ripen in cold storage as do apples. The closer you can keep them to 32 degrees F the longer they'll keep in storage.

If your pears did not bear, chances are it was due to lack of pollination. Bartlett and Seckel will not pollinate each other. Where these are planted, a third variety is needed. I've had good luck growing the dwarf pear. At maturity the tree is about 10 feet tall, and quite often the tree will bear the second year after planting.

Mulching new lawns: Does it pay to put straw and other materials over a new seeding? For fall seedings, I don't think it does, unless you have a slope to protect from erosion. The materials commonly used are straw, hay, burlap, plastic sheets and cloth netting. On flat surfaces, these materials are an unnecessary expense.

usually requiring staking for protection in windy areas. You can divide bleeding hearts in September and get new plants. I have made root cuttings in early spring and made new plants. Or they may be started from seeds or from shoots immediately after flowering. Some folks mulch their newly transplanted bleeding hearts but I think this does more harm than good since the plant is more or less succulent and will rot if covered with straw, leaves or other items that prevent air circulation.

Dry rot disease often occurs at time of transplanting. Dusting the clumps with Ferbam or Captan helps check this.

Letter Writing In Area

THE 3RD Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in the Stroudsburg during the week of Oct. 2 to 8. It was announced yesterday by Postmasters Norm Gregory and Fred Rhodes.

The postmasters noted that there has been a revival of personal letter writing during the last few years. "A letter remains the most economical, longest lasting, and sincerest means of extending greetings, communicating social news, and exchanging ideas," the Postmaster said.

During Letter Writing Week, the postmasters suggested that individuals write at least two letters: one to a friend or relative from whom you have not heard in a long time, and the second a reply to a friend or relative who recently wrote to you. He also urged correspondence to people in other countries as a means of promoting greater understanding among the people of different nations.

The slogan of this year's event, as indicated on more than 200,000 banners, is "Letters are Links to Friendship." The display materials will appear on post office bulletin boards, and rural carrier vehicles, as well as in various schools and libraries.

Charge U. S. — TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged American planes invaded Chinese territory twice Monday and Peiping radio said the Chinese Foreign Ministry issued its 12nd serious warning against such intrusions.
